

INVITATION

May We Be Stewards for the Future

SEKEM Festival 2024, 14. - 16. June 2024

It's in our hands: We human beings have all possibilities and with it the responsibility of shaping our earth in a way that makes it worth living for all! Let us seize this opportunity with joy and shape our stewardship together.

We invite you to gain insight into our sustainable economic practices and discover how an „Economy of Love“ lives and develops.

You can expect a colorful cultural program that may lead to a concert, exhibition or performance.

Let's discover the transformative power of biodynamic agriculture together. Our farmers will share their experiences with their services to our ecosystem.

Social transformation is taking place in 13 villages in Egypt - we want to share with you how social change can take place in your living environments.

Participation (As far as space allows. Application deadline: 31. December 2023)
